

The 1956
Beacon

FOREWORD

The cherished memories of our life at Salisbury High School are gathered in the pages of this book -- memories of all fun, work, friends, laughter, and unforgettable events: -- to be treasured throughout all the years ahead.

We, the Staff of 1956, wish to thank each person for the helpful cooperation in bringing this year-book to you. We hope that we have captured the true spirit of Salisbury High School. "Where Faith and Trust prevail o'er all -- and Friendship rules."

DEDICATION

Zealous, yet modest, though free;
Patient of toil; serene amidst alarms;
Inflexible in faith; invincible in arms.

Beattie -- "The Minstrel"

And thus has Beattie characterized so aptly our esteem for you, our beloved supervisor.

We wish to express personally, however, our appreciation for your untiring effort, devotion and patience in our behalf. We owe you much credit for the many achievements attained by our class due to your guidance during the early years of our education. We laud you, who have given yourself in service to the youth of your country.

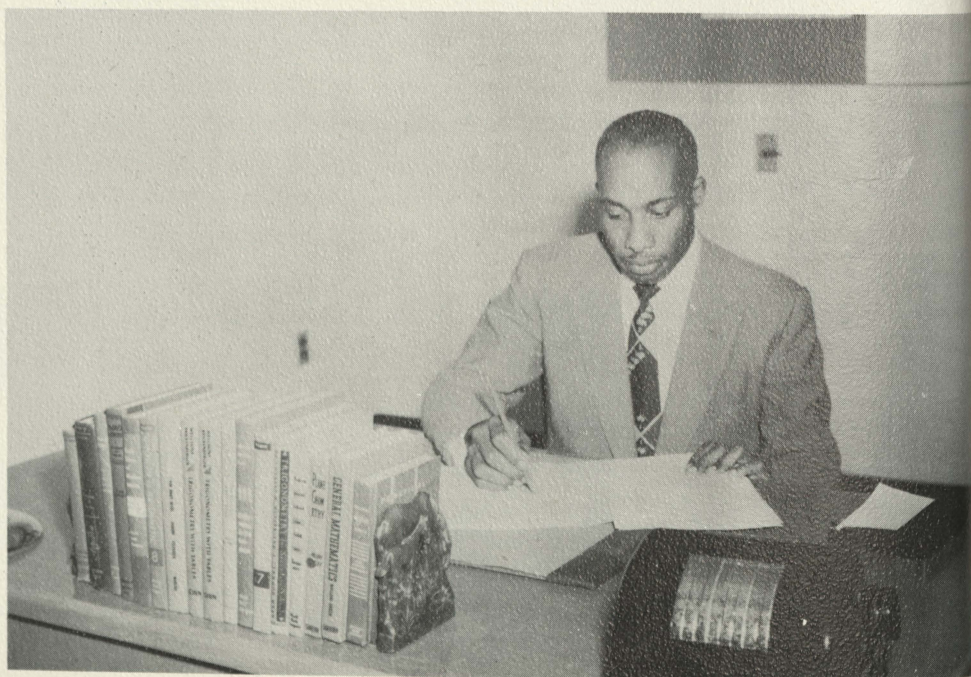

The class of '56 dedicated to you, Miss Marie A. Dashiell -- our friend and former supervisor - our yearbook.

SENIOR CLASS SONG

Tune - "He"

I

Time has come for us to say good-bye to thee.

Keep us in your minds and thoughts where ere' you be.

Don't think neither time that we'll be ever blue.

In our hearts reigns joy as you would want it to.

To our teachers dear we want to say to you.

To our principal who helped to see us through.

"Long may you guide those who are to walk these halls,

And thus we'll heed all your calls. "

II

When we walk out of these doors into the world.

Pray to God our victories will be unfurled.

To the goal that you and you have all prescribed.

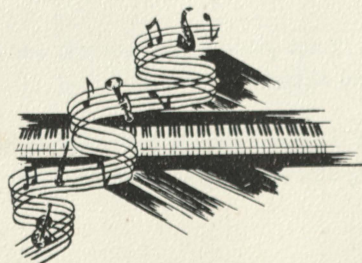

To the goal we'll reach and keep until we've died.

You have been the dearest friends we've ever known.

Please think of us now as being all your own.

Though it makes us sad to think we have to leave,

Remember us always.

THE CLASS HISTORY

Now the history of 1955-56, of the Salisbury High School of the City of Salisbury, County of Wicomico, State of Maryland, is in this wise:

In the beginning, in the two - and fiftieth year of our Lord, in the ninth month, and on the sixth day of the month, there entered into this land of learning about 138 seekers of knowledge. Some came up from various school, where they had for many years been busily engaged in storing their minds with the honey of wisdom; some came from farms, where they had been tillers of the soil; and some were from other communities.

And it came to pass, as they did enter this land, that they were received with welcomings and rejoicings by those who were of higher grades.

Likewise it came to pass also that they were received with glee by a certain land of beings who were called "Sophomores" who caused them to say in their hearts, "Behold, blessed be the name of education, for because of it we have endured many and great torments, both of the body and mind; verily have we been martyrs to its great and noble cause!"

And as they each dwelt long in the land, they fell in with the customs of the inhabitants thereof, and their strangeness wore away, and they each became as one among the rest.

Now it came to pass, soon after they entered that land, that certain students were seized with a strange infirmity. Wise men were called to look upon them, who did examine them with much care and pains, and did finally pronounce the infirmity in the male basketball and football. The greatest victims among these were Donald Toadvine and George Adkins. The infirmity in the female was field ball and basketball, and the greatest among these were Doris Elsey and Ruth White. The frightened leaders were assured that the malady while its needs must be contagious, and likewise sometimes fatal, was yet a necessary evil, and one that even the wisemen knew not the way to cure. So, with many anxious fears, and dire forebodings did the instructors allow the disease to run its natural course, and lo, none was killed, nor injured, whereas there was great rejoicing throughout the land.

And it came to pass, as the years quickly passed by that our eyes were turning toward graduation, but many, with one consent, began to make excuses.

The first said, "I am poor in health; therefore, I cannot graduate."

Another said, "I must toil at home; therefore, I cannot graduate."

A third said, "I am dull and cannot learn: I pray thee have me excused."

And still another said, "I am going to be married, and therefore I need not graduate." So the class decreased in number.

Now it came to pass at the beginning of the year, we had accomplished much by participating in various programs and contest, and singular honors had been conferred on individuals of our class. First prize was awarded to Sinclair Cottman and Ruth Collins for being best dancers. Anita Stewart was awarded first prize in the "Battle of Words" contest.

Now it so happened at the beginning of the third year, we found ourselves divided, and our homeroom teachers spake unto us, saying: "Go gather ye in a body, and organize yourselves into a class, that ye may gain in strength, and that your courage may long endure."

And as they spake unto us, so was it done, and we chose our wisest ones to be our leaders. Among these were: Anita Stewart, President; Shirley Handy, Vice President; and Martha Goslee, Secretary.

And it came to pass, in the same year, that the class was found in much sorrow, for it was here that we lost one of our dearly beloved classmates, Martha Ellen Goslee, who was a great success in all of her doings. Because God thought that it was best, he called her from all the rest. We then bade her farewell, and sorrowfully passed on our way without her.

Now in the same year Doris Elsey was awarded first prize in an essay contest. Carlotta Robinson and Peggy Nutter participated in singing in the Maryland All-State Chorus.

And lo, the whole number at the end of the third year was 86. Now this, the fourth year in the history of this great prodigious class of 1955-56, has been one of much hard labor; but little resting by the wayside; for preparations were being made ready for the final departure from school. So far many activities were sponsored as the crowning of Alfreda Handy for Miss Salisbury High. The runners up were Carlotta Robinson, Anita Stewart, Shelby Jones, and Peggy Nutter.

The football team was not complete without the ardent zeal of Donald Toadvine and George Adkins. There were other activities, however, we will not be able to mention.

Now the curtains are slowly closing, and this means a great deal to us, for we shall always be trying to reach the top, but we must still remember like the poet says, "Heaven is not reached by a single bound, but we build the ladder by which we rise, from the lowly earth to the vaulted skies, and mount each summit round by round."

CLASS PROPHECY

The Crystal Gazer

This little crystal sphere holds all of the past and all of the future. It can reveal the hidden and make known their secrets. It can tell you whatever your soul desires to know. I have been asked to search in its magic depths until I discover the future that awaits the members of our class, so soon to take their separate ways and perhaps never be reunited. I am about to read the crystal, but before doing so, may I ask you for your earnest co-operation?

Won't you join me in concentrating upon the future, leaving your mind wiped free of all conflicting impressions. I can promise you the information you desire.

The mist is clearing. I see the largest drug store in the country. There is the pharmacist behind the counter mixing medicine for a prescription. He is just turning around. What a surprise! The pharmacist is a lady. It is Delores Church.

The scene changes. I see a large agriculture building. There is a group of boys watching a teacher demonstrate a new farm implement. The teacher seems to be well informed. He turns around to answer a pupil's question. It is Reuben Fortt.

The mist blots out the scene and clears showing a large city. I see a large electric shop. Inside are the best electricians in the country. The door is opening. Here comes one of the chief electricians. It is Earl Conway.

The scene becomes noisy. Hammering and buzzing fill the ear. I see a new building about to be constructed. The chief carpenter is approaching. It is James Williams.

The scene shifts to a large room where there is a large display. It is an elementary classroom. The pupils seem to respect their teacher and to thoroughly understand what he is saying. He is coming this way. It is Marion Gale.

The scene changes. It is a large city. We are in the business district. I see a large office building. It is the Pentagon. I see Evangeline Garland, one of the highest paid stenographers.

More clouds and more mists appear. Gazing through them, I see that I am still in the city. It is the interior of a large establishment -- a beauty salon. I see the proprietress doing her best to clarify her customers beauty problems. It is Rosalee Gattis.

The scene changes to a large medical building -- Psychiatrist Inc. I see Betty Handy as one of the chief psychiatrists with an office of her own. She seems to be very happy in her profession.

The scene shifts to the large hospital across the street. The door is opening and I see the head nurse at the desk. She is Josephine Hull.

The mist clears to show an exclusive shop with expensive materials in the windows. I see Esther Polk as the owner and one of the best known seamstresses in the business.

The cloud lifts and an air base comes into focus. I see Oswald Nutter about to enter one of the newest planes. He has the stripes of a captain. He seems to be very experienced.

I have just given you brief glances at your future from the crystal ball. Your future looks very bright, my friends, so go forward and take your places.

CLASS WILL

Dear Friends, we have called you to assemble here as a solemn duty, that you, the heirs of our respected client, the class of 1956, may see and hear her last will and testament.

It was her intention and would have been her great pleasure to present you personally with these tokens of her esteem, but, finding her possessions were even more extensive and valuable than she had thought, it was impossible, particularly as her last days were so occupied with social engagements and other dates not so social, but of great importance to the future. The strain from these engagements left her too weary for additional effort.

May we, the clients legal advisors, ask that you receive your respective legacies in the spirit of unselfish friendship with which they were given. We shall appreciate your courteous attention to the reading of this duly attested will.

"We, the class of 1956, in the town, of Salisbury, the county of Wicomico, and the state of Maryland being of sound mind and body (?) do, of our own free will and accord, hereby make this our last will and testament.

And in this manner do we dispose of our possessions:

We leave the Junior Class our privileges and rights that we so greatly cherished as seniors.

To the Sophomore Class, we leave our patience. It will be found to be extremely useful in trying to reach the Junior Class.

To the young and unsophisticated eighth and ninth grades we leave our ability to settle down and actually realize that school is a business.

To the seventh grade we leave a map of the school building so that they will not get lost and roam about in everybody's way looking for their classroom.

To our dear school building, we leave the peaceful quiet caused by our absence.

To our principal we give and bequeath a sense of relief that we have at last been graduated, and a feeling of pride in any great deeds or noteworthy achievement that our future may contain.

We bequeath to the teachers our very kindest regards and our sincere gratitude for their unfailing kindness and aid.

The smaller individual requests are as follows:

Carlotta Robinson, wills to the entire Glee Club her singing ability.

Lycurcis Cottman, wills to John Fenner his dancing ability.

Barbara Curtis, wills to Charles Peters her ability to print.

George Adkins and Amanda Wilson, will to James Mapp and Maragaret Bailey their athletic abilities.

Shelby Jones, wills to Elsie Wilson her speaking ability.

Shirley Handy, wills to Monterey Banks her ability to type well.

Anita Stewart, wills to Phyllis Harris her ability to perform in the dramatics club. "

This brings to a close the will of the class of '56. Having fulfilled the necessary requirements, we do hereby subscribe our names and affix our signatures to this document. "
